

Dermatology

Dermatologists work with skin disorders and ear issues associated with allergies (food, environmental, contact, flea), skin infections (bacterial, fungal, parasitic, atypical), autoimmune skin disease, skin cancer, endocrine diseases of the skin, alopecia, recurrent or non-resolving ear infections, and conditions affecting the nails. Veterinary dermatologists have specialized training in procedures such as video otoscopy, cytology, skin scraping, skin biopsies, fungal and bacterial cultures, and environmental allergy testing via intradermal and serum testing. Specialized intradermal allergy testing is completed on-site, and combining these results with serum allergy testing results, our dermatologist mixes a customized serum called allergen immunotherapy, which is administered by the client via weekly to bi-weekly allergy injection or daily oral drop.

PATIENT REFERRAL

The PVESC dermatology service is available Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday at our Congress Street location. Veterinary hospitals can refer patients to the PVESC dermatology service by phone, 207-878-3121 option 3, or by emailing specialty@pvesc.com. If emailing, please note “dermatology referral” in the subject line, attach the patient records and veterinary referral form. A copy of the Veterinary Referral Form is included in this portfolio, and an editable PFD can be found on our website, pvesc.com, in the “For Veterinarians” section. Once the records are received, we will contact the client to schedule a consultation. Clients are welcome to call us directly as well, at which time we will request the patient records and referral form from the referring veterinary hospital. Veterinarians are welcome to email or call directly with any case and referral questions.
